Investment Stewardship

Our Engagement Activities

As global investors Swisscanto Invest ("Swisscanto") recognizes the growing view among investors and investment professionals that sustainability or environmental, social, and corporate governance (ESG) factors could present material risks to portfolio investments and opportunities for better risk-adjusted returns. We are fully committed to our sustainability principles. Our aim is to ensure that our business activities are aligned not only with our fiduciary duty but also with our social and environmental responsibility. The latter being integral to Zürcher Kantonalbank's public service mandate and incorporated into our bank's sustainability policy.

We believe that investors are well positioned to influence ESG best-practices and to drive sustainable impact among their investments, not only confined to their material holdings. At Swisscanto, our proprietary holdings, both Swiss and international, constitute our key focus for corporate engagements. Our engagement efforts are primarily driven and led by our bottom up fundamental capabilities, mostly equity related but comprising also fixed income – as engagements drive both perspectives and benefits issuers overall irrespective of their listed instruments.

Swisscanto recognizes that the diverse impacts of climate change pose significant economic and business risks. Following the 2015 Paris Agreement, there is a strong societal and political willingness to curb carbon emissions to avoid average global warming of more than 2 degrees Celsius compared to pre-industrial levels, and to pursue efforts to limit the temperature increase even further to 1.5 degrees Celsius as companies and governments increasingly commit to a net zero ambition by 2050.

Climate change is today among the top issues for Swisscanto, which faces the risk of asset loss in a low-carbon future and seeks to better understand how various potential scenarios could affect short-, medium-, and long-term business sustainability and investment performance. Swisscanto therefore urges all issuers to commit to establish science-based targets to protect from any adverse effect of climate change.

Swisscanto has developed a set of Investment Stewardship policies and guidelines that are consistent with the objectives of sustainability-minded investors and that seek to promote support for sustainable business practices advocating for stewardship of environmental protection and climate change, supporting biodiversity, fair labor practices, non-discriminatory work and the protection of human rights and other best practice corporate governance themes and ESG topics.

Swisscanto carries out individual direct engagements as well as collaborative engagements with other investors or institutions whenever necessary and appropriate. We believe that the best way to promote improved market practices and ESG best-practice standards is through active membership in collaborative platforms such as United Nations Principles for Responsible Investment (UN PRI), European Fund and Asset Management Association (EFAMA), Asset Management Association Switzerland (AMAS), Swiss Sustainable Finance (SSF) and European Sustainable Investment Forum (Eurosif). For each of these platforms, we identify and prioritize our collaborative engagement activities within these memberships.

Collaborative engagements are effective and enable investors to speak with a strong "common voice" when addressing common ESG issues. It takes on a variety of forms including investor letters and broader investor initiatives such as topical coalitions and campaigns. This document provides an overview of our collaborative engagements and related memberships.
